Betrayed and killed by a trusted comrade during a mission, a legendary French Foreign Legion soldier reincarnates as a bullied teenager, retaining all his combat skills. Armed with his past memories, he embarks on a relentless quest for revenge, uncovering a global conspiracy involving reincarnation while fighting to protect world peace.

SYNOPSIS

Kang Chan, the legendary "God of Blackfield" of the French Foreign Legion, is betrayed and killed during a mission in Africa. Mysteriously reincarnated as his 19-year-old bullied self in Korea, he retains all his combat skills and memories. Alongside Dayeoru, a fellow reincarnated soldier now posing as a PE teacher, Kang Chan begins unraveling the truth behind their deaths and the power of reincarnation.

STORY 2

God of Blackfield

A chance encounter with his killers, Shahrar and Smythe, sets Kang Chan on a path of bloody revenge. As he aids French ambassador Lanoque against Shahrar's plot, he becomes embroiled in a web of international intrigue.

The discovery of "Blackhead," the substance responsible for reincarnation, draws the attention of global powers, leading to a deadly race for its control. To prevent further bloodshed, Kang Chan enters the world of espionage. With support from France and other nations, he executes covert operations worldwide. Balancing his thirst for vengeance with a duty to protect peace, Kang Chan fights to uncover the truth of reincarnation while battling enemies that threaten both nations and his loved ones.
